

International Management & Business Consultants

Trade and Investment Promotion:

Organisational Development and Change

GIC has worked with a wide range of firms and organisations in the UK, Europe and developing countries to assist them with the development of their staff capabilities and organisational restructuring. We provide in-house consultancy and training, and offer bespoke skills development seminars.

Specific services we offer include:

- Reviews of organisational structures and definition of staff requirements to meet change
- Training needs analysis, followed by the design and delivery of staff training seminars and courses
- Design and costing of business development plans, joint venture strategies and financial plans
- Competitor analysis
- Market research and economic analysis
- Improvement and adaptation of existing procedures such as goods scheduling
- Advice on the adoption of business ethics, codes of practice and professional standards

A training course we currently run is:

- Introduction to Project Management

Other related courses are under preparation.
